Against the backdrop of rebellions and usurpers, of intrigues and wars, this series, set in the 14th century, features medieval London as one of its characters. The stories are connected through the character of Addis, a warrior and lord, whose scarred soul and body are healed by the serf-born Moira in the first book, BY POSSESSION.

From medieval London to the battlefields of Brittany to the Scottish border, this series features romances between men and women who are thrown together by circumstances, obligation, or the power of others. David de Abyndon, the wily London merchant of BY ARRANGEMENT, is one of the most distinctive and unusual heroes in historical romance.
